AN INERSTATED DECK-HAND DUCKED .- A deck-hand on one of the steamboats now ly ing at the wharf, while under the bewildering influence of the god of wine, stepped from a gangway into the river, day before yesterday and was almost drowned. Some persons saw the accident and running to his relief dragged him from the water a much more sober, if no wiser, man than before.

PETTY LARCENY .- A warrant was issued yesterday afternoon, at the instance of F. Mr. P. says he has missed his fowls in many instances, and at length caught R. in the act of carrying them off.

Dodges' Grates and Stoves .- This popula improvement has been fairly tested in this city, and, from the orders already filled so far this fall and winter, we must conclude that those who have them in use are recommending them to their friends. They are certainly de strable for their great economy, and for many reasons are worthy the attention of house-keepers. Grates set upon this plan will pay for themselves in a very short time in the saving of coal. See advertisement.

Having occasion a day or two ago to visit the Hoosier capital, we found the Bates House crowded with guests, and, from our experience cheer. with guests, and, from our experience, cheer-fully recommend it to the traveling public, feeling confident that all who patronize it will not regret their choice.

THE QUEEN CITY TESTIMONIAL TO SMITH O'BRIEN.—Mr. Smith O'Brien, in a letter dated Cahirmoyle, October 10, acknowledges the receipt of the chair manufactured by Mr. N. Harris, and presented to him by the Irishmen of this city. He adds: "Few incidents have occurred to me in life which have given me so much pleasure as those which attended my recent excursion to the United States, Canada and Newfoundland; and even if this memorial had been intrinsically less costly than it is, I could not have looked to it without remembering with pleasure my visit to Cincinnati."

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO A LABORRE. - A man named Paterick Merlin, engaged in carrying a heavy load of bricks to the second-story of a house in process of erection, on Freeman-street, near Bank, by the tipping of a board on which he stepped, was precipitated into the cellar, a distance of nearly thirty feet. His left shoul-der was dislocated by the fall, three of his ribs were broken, and besides these he was injured internally to a degree which almost precludes the possibility of recovery. After his wounds had been attended to by a neighboring physician the unfortunate man was carried to his family, which resides on Western-row, a short distance from the Brighton House.

Man Rossed at a Bagnto.—A man from Rochester, New York, named Joseph P. Glass, visited a bagnio on Elm-street, night before last, and while there, through the effect of a large quantity of villainous wine, which he had imbibed at the solicitation of some of the inmates of the establishment, he became so imbued with the spirit of Somnus that he fell into his arms unconscious. While in this state he now ascerte, that he was robbed of $72 in money and a watch worth about $30. When he awoke he was lying on the floor in one of the rooms, which was as dark as Erebus, and upon complaining of the treatment he had re-ceived was rudely ordered from the house. He thinks it better to say nothing to the au-thorities in recard to the matter and any that thorities in regard to the matter, and says that under the circumstances his experience was Hymeneal Hegira-A Pair of Bucolic Lovers at a Metropolitan Hotel.

Since Aphrodite rose near Cyprus's shore fresh from the soft creation of the ocean's foam, the power of female beauty, both with gods and men, has been acknowledged and revered. The stern and stabborn nature of the male, although it sprung from seeming adamantize hearts, has tender grown beneath her rosy smile, and her delicious voice, with sweet of honied words, has conquered oft the conquerers of the world, as when Cleop-atra won Antony from glorious wars to the enchanting nothingness of her kisses and

Far more than this, however, has the sex received from beauty's goddess as a boon, and well do they know how to use the Heaven-deseemed gift. What smiles can not effect their tears accomplish, and every eye-born pearl that o'er the check of beauty glides is rich to her as diamonds newly washed from Peru's limpid streams: for men who see them count their cost by heart-throbs.

We have often thought it much to be regretted that this mystic power did not extend from daughters to their parents; but here the sex has its excuse. A holy love will cover oft a multitude of sins; and let us hope that, in the instance we are about to relate, the Cupid that cheated this couple into Hymen's arms, may win for them the blessings of the father from whom the girl escaped.

Yesterday before the dawn had heralded the approach of day, a party consisting of five couples drove up to the Walnut-street House in buggles, and were ushered into the drawingroom breathless with haste. One person was dispatched for a minister, who shortly after arrived, and another to the Probate Court, where a marriage license was immediately obtained. Not half an hour elapsed before this trusting twain were rendered one, and then the ollowing story was related: The parties reside in Kenton County, Kentucky, about twenty-five miles from this city; long had loved each other and had prayed the parents of the girl to bless the union of their dark-eyed "Kate" with the handsome, although rustic, "Edward," whom her soul had chosen for its own soul's own. This they refused and the negation of the love the couple bore each other often filled the eyes of "Kate" with tears, and the proud heart of "Edward" with bitterness and woe. The prayers of beauty never fell on harder hearts; and rosy Love has seldom found a pair more willing to be led unto the altar where sacrifice is made to Hymen.

On Thanksgiving night, some of the friends of "Kate" gave a party, to which she, together with her beloved, were invited. The parents tof our heroine would not permit her to attend however, if she was accompanied by "Edward;" but when another suitor, whom they favored more, proposed to secompany their daughter, they giadly yielded their consent, and gally she started for the house of her friend.

As might have been expected, "Edward" was there before her, and, whispering their intentions to a trusty few, they drove to this city where, as we have already related, they found freedom from a father's flat in the wreath of orange blossoms, which oft, alas! is but a chain to bind together hearts long after they have ceased to love.

Soon as the extremony was ended the party

Soon as the ceremony was ended the party, happy—what a wealth of sarcasm is there in the word—as such parties usually are, returned to their homes. The bride was pretty, and somewhat like that one which Sir John Suckling saw; for the men looked very much as if they would like to occupy the place of the bridegroom, and the females of the party, by their glances plainly told how much they wished to take the position of the gay, light-hearted, newly-wedded "Kate."

tity, residing on Home-street.

A fellow named Jesse Durkee was arraigned upon two charges of petty larceny, having stolen a coat and vest from some tailor on Main-street. Upon one of these he was sen-teneed to three months imprisonment at hard labor in the County Jail, and upon the other to pay a fine of $20 and costs, and to make restitution in double the value of the property stolen.

A young man named George Kimball was brought into Court, and the person who ar-rested him produced a very formidable lock-ing revolver, which he asserted was found upon his person. He was fined $10 and costs.

CINCINEATI AND THE WEEK .- The weather during the week has been variable, and the departed day-daughters are buried in robes departed day-daughters are buried in robes of cloud and sunshine, with the copicus tears of heaven falling as we write upon their tomb. The temperature has been mild, and more like spring than the last of Autumn; some of the days beautiful and genial as a poet's heart could desire, and others gloomy enough to please a Manfred's mood.

Business has been fairly active both in the wholesale and retail trade, though not so much so as it should be at this sesson. The warm weather has interferred somewhat with the hog market, but a number of porkers have been packed. The hotels are fuller than they were last week, and the "Western Athens" is quite replete with strangers. When the afternoons were pleasant, the thoroughfares were thronged with fine and elegantly-dressed women, who represent the North, South, East and West; each section of the Union meeting in this busy center.

The different places of amusements, among them the Opera-house and the theaters, have been well attended on the nights that were not inclement, and the lecture and concert-rooms have contained intellectual and appreciating audiences. The full activity of the Queen City has not yet been reached, but will be with the coming of the December month.

THE LATE RIOT CASE IN ELM-STREET.—The case of Michael Boethegen, Christian Clement and Charles Mildenberg, who were arrested a day or two ago, upon a warrant issued at the instance of Gottfried Jossuer, charging them with entering his house, located on Elm-street, near the Hamilton-road, and maliclously destroying his furniture was yesterday dismissed by Justice Bell, the prosecuting witness failing to appear. The affair, we believe, was settled by the payment of twenty dollars on the part of the rioters, which we presume more than covered all the damage that was done. THE LATE RIOT CASE IN ELM-STREET .- The that was done. Overens.—The lovers of oysters are invited to call on Robert Orr, No. 11 West Fifth-street. He keeps none but the first quality, and persons purchasing from him can rely upon it that they have the best in the market.

UNION CRICKET CLUB - THE MATCH ON THANKSGIVING DAY .- The closing match of the Union Cricket Club was played at their grounds, near East Walnut Hills, day before yesterday. The earth was quite damp and unplessant, which rendered the playing less spirited than it would otherwise have been; still those who witnessed enjoyed it, and the attendance was quite fair. The club seems now to have made itself a fixed institution, and an opportunity will seen be given those who desire to participate in this manly sport to connect themselves with it.

The following is the score of the match of Thursday, by which it will be seen that Hat-tersley's side beat their opponents in a single inning and had five runs to spare:

COUNTY BOARD OF EQUALIZATION .- The committee from the Board of Equalisation for Delhi, Millcreek and Storrs Township, report-ed, yesterday, after a careful review of thereturns, and recommended that ten per cent. be added to Delhi Township, valued at $95 03, and taken off Storrs valued $696 39 per acro, in view of the depreciation of suburban property within the last few years. Millereek Township, the committee agreed, should remain at the return appraisement $206 98 per acre, as there was a large amount of exempted property in the township which will increase the value of the taxable property.

At the regular session of the County Commissioners yesterday morning one order only was passed, which amounted to $10, to defray the funeral expenses of Michael Fahr, non-resi-

Mr. Isaiah Rogers, Architectand Superinter dent of the Carthage Lunatic Asylum, notified the County Commissioners yesterday morning that Wesley M. Cameron had completed his contract to build the South-western Lunstic Asylum, and that he was now ready to give the building into their possession.

The following communication was received by the Board from Nicholas Longworth, but no action was taken upon it:

Police Court.—Twenty cases were before Judge Lowe yesterday morning, among which the following were the most noticeable: Michael Feeny, arrested upon a charge of stabbing with intent to kill a man named John Lawier, at a wedding which took place on Monday last, was examined. The story we related in regard to the matter then was rehearsed in detail by the witnesses before the Police Court. The physician attending the wounded man gave it as his opinion that his patient would recover, and Feeny was held in the sum of $2,000 for his appearance at the next term of the Court of Common Pleas.

Andrew Sarver, an individual who has gained a rather unenvisible notoristy, partly from the fact that he has been guilty of the superlative meanness of visiting bagnios and a less price, but felt bound to tell you that my land, as well as the other ground offered you for sale, would be a hard bargain so a stem quarry, as the charge of hauling the stone to the parts of the city where stone would be in demand, would be ne arly as much per perchas the stone would sell for. This reason, I was then told, led you to decline a purchase.

Since then it has been stated that you contemplate a purchase there at $500 per acre. I preaume this is a mistake, and that you have not changed your opinions. If you have, I have a piece of ground there, and the same I formerly offered, abundant in the stone, and the top of the hill a beautiful location for a residence, and a dwelling, house on the land, that I will sell you at less than $200 per acre.

When you visit the ten acres, you can examine it, as the ground is in its vicinity, and its location well known.

COVINGTON NEWS.

STREET RAILBOADS.—The subject of Street Ballroads is now being agitated among our citizens, and a company is in process of formation, whose dedesign it is to inaugurate this great practical reform in our method of street trivel. At present the best, and perhaps only means of conveyance for passengers, from one part of the city to another, is an express wagon or a dray. It is now proposed to establish railroads through the principal strests of our city, terminating at the crossing of Front and Scott or Front and Greenup-streets, in order to permit a continued connection with the reads of Clininati when the bridge across the Ohio Rivershall have been built. The projectors of this scheme are energetic and responsible men, all of whom are citizens of Cavington. A petition asking a charter is in the hands of a member of the Council, who proposes to agitate the subject at the next meeting of that body. These roads can no longer be regarded as an experiment, their convenience and practical utility having been abundantly demonstrated in Cincinnati, Our Council can now profit from the errors committed in that city, and at once grant a charter which will need little or no amendment.

ANOTHER WARNING TO REPUBLICANS .- The following is a copy of a letter which was received yesterday by Mr. Abner Williams, of this place, through the Postoffico. We believe the meeting was "private," very, as no one knew anything of it until this letter was received:

"Covinoron, November 23, 1859.

"Ma. Williams: At a private meeting, held recently by the citizens of Covington, it was resolved that a committee be appointed to inform you, by letter, that the principles you entertain upon the question of slavery are in direct opposition to the interests of the slavsholding citizens of this State; and it was further resolved that you be requested to move to the other side of the river within two weeks from the above date. If you do not obey this warning, you and your confedrates mus; suffer the consequences."

"COMMITTEE."

CANDIDATE FOR CITY CLERK .- We have CARDIDATE FOR CITY CLERK.—We have have heard the names of several gentlemen spoken of in connection with the office of City Clerk, to be filled at the next January election, prominent among which is Mr. John R. Ricke, who has been for some time engaged as Principal of one of our public schools. His qualifications are undoubted, and, if elected, he will no doubt give entire satisfactioh. The convention to pass upon his claims to a nomination, will convene on Monday next.

PERSONAL .- L. J. Bradford, a resident of Bracken County, has been recommended as a suitable person for President of the State Board of Agri-culture, vice Brutus Clay, who declines re-election.

NEWPORT NEWS.

"OUR OWN CLUB."-The party given by this enterprising club on Thursday evening was largely attended, and passed of very pleasantly. The dark-eyed daughters of our city were there in goodly numbers, and in the mazes of the merry dance laughed at the gliding heurs until the day-dawn drove them home to dream of the conquests they had made.

REWARDS OF MERIT. - Misses Lewis, Stewart, Stein and Summers were each presented with a beau-tiful book by Major J. R. Hallam, one of the mem-bers of the School Board, yesterday, as a token of his appreciation of their efforts in composition.

AMUSEMENTS.

PIRE'S OPERA-HOUEE. — The Isgune-like streets last night did not prevent a fair attendance at the Opera-house, and the call November blast without, was a good accompaniement to the ley, adamantine Mannet Heart within. The "Marco" of Mrs Conway was played in a manner which extaced a just conception of the part—as it is misrepresented in the English acting copy of the play—and sufficient power to translate it correctly. Mr. Conway's "Ducatelet" was very good, but in the third act was somewhat overdone. The character of the gentle "Marieste" was suinrisbly played by Bertha Stanler, who, with her sweet simplicity in this part has already won the hearts of all who have witnessed her impersonation, and brought tears to many eyes heretofore inured to the melting mood.

To night Kotzebue's STRANGER, and Morton's ALL Is Nov Gold That GLIVTERS, will be produced with Mr. and Mrs. Conway in the principal roles.

Wood's THEATER.-This establishment, last night, was filled upon the occasion of the benefit of Mr. Richings. The clever comedy of Extragrass was admirably presented and well received. Miss Richings enacts the character of "Mrs. Crosby" to the life, and plandits of her audience testified their approval of the performance. The play will be repeated this evening, but in consequence of its length no farce will be enacted.

NATIONAL THEATER.—The splendid spectacl NATIONAL THEATER.—The splendid spectacle of FAURI AND MABUURRITE continues to draw good audiences to the National. We have already spoken of the magnificent style in which it has been put upon the stage, and can only add to what we have siready said that the pictures with which it abounds deserge to be seen by every lover of the spectacular drams.

To night Mr. J. B. Roberts will appear as "Bir Edward Mortimer" in Colemans play of Tue Luon Caust, a character in which he playsatmirably.

Monetary and Commercial.

The low price of Exchange at this point, and the inability of bankers to dispose in Baltimore of Virginia Bank-notes at a better rate on an average than % discount, caused the Issues of that State to be separated yesterday from the parfunds, and to be placed at a discount of 16 per cent.; the Wheeling Banks only being excepted from this new regulation. The demand for C urrency was active at the Bank ing houses, but the supply was better than at the beginning of the week, on account of the remittances here from points North and West for Exchange. Good paper still ruled at 10%12 per cent. in the regular quarters, but none save customers of the Discount-house were accommodated at those figures. Eastern Exchange was in more demand yesterday at is buying and M promium selling; the supply having diminished somewhat from the falling off in the offerings of Pork and Produce bills. Gold is heavy and neminal. Missouri is still purchased at 154, and Iowa, Illinois and Wiscousin at 2c. discount.

Flour became quite active yesterday, influenced by the New York news, and superfine advanced fully 18c. per barrel. Whiskey was unaltered, the demand continuing good.

Hogs have been active since Wednesday, and prices advanced at least 25c., the markot closing buoyant, and 2,550 head selling during the past two days. Provisions were brisk. Wheat went up 2c. per bushel, and other kinds of Grain were steady.

Wednesday: Weinesday:

In Money affairs we hear of no change in discount rates. The discount brokers report a good inquiry for strictly prime lists of Paper 65/67 per cent. 25% days to 6 months, and 6 per cent. for choice 60-day acceptances. At most of the banks the regular dealers pay 7 per cent. The supply of Money on temporary loan was quite free at 55/per cent. 65 per cent. on account of the intervening holiday, which gives two days's interest until Friday. There was nothing done to Exchange after the Asia sailed. She took only $5.000 in specie.

Last week's statement of the Boston Banks con cares as follows with that of the previous week: Loans and Discounts, increase....... eposits, decrease..... W. T. Coleman & Co.'s circular of October 27 has the following in regard to the San Francisco Money market: market:

There is no change to note in the rates of interest, nor especial requirement for accommodations at present. Money is said to be tight, though there is no deficiency of capital for loans on satisfactory security. During the past week the receipts of bullion from the interior have been unusually large for the season, for which fact there is no satisfactory accounting, as this is a season when a regular diminution is looked for.

EXPORTS OF TREASURE.-The exports of treasure rom San Francisco for the year 1859 were as follows: Excess of 1859 over 1855.....

...$1,142,952 67 New York Carrie Manker, Thursday, November New York Cavile Market, Thursday, November 2a.—The Live Stock markets have been less fraely supplied during a week past. For the week ending yesterday, the total recapts at the regular yards of live animals destined for slaughter, numbered: Beef cattle, 4,200; veal calves, 60; sheep and lambs, 13,48; swine, 11,402; also, of milk cows, 122. Total 29,310; an excess over last week of 1,734, the increase in texture more than counterbalancing the decrease in betwee and veal. matters in that city:

The Banks are very quiet, d'sconnting but little, yet some little of their money is sent to the country for hox investments. Both city and country Banks are restricted in their circulation by the demands upon them for coin or exchange. The demands upon the Banks at Lexington, we learn, were met with the gold prompily. The scarcity of Exchange is severely felt. The Savings Institutions drew in some instances at 1/4 premium; a certain limited class of customers were accommodated at % premium for Eastern Sight, but others had to pay I per cart, while those having no special claims paid 1/4. The State Savings held its rates to outsiders at 1/5. New Orleans is in small supply, and firm at I per cent, permium. Currency is plentiful enough at % discount as the buying, and % discount as the selling rate.
